Mediators Try To Avert Strike

New York Press Walkout Likely Wednesday Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators, on their own initiative, have moved formally into negotiations in the disputes in the newspaper industry here.

Wednesday night is the deadline for a threatened strike by news and commercial employees on any or all of seven daily papers.

Frank H. Brown, regional director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said Monday his office had entered the disputes first at the Daily News, the World Telegram & Sun, and the Post.

Each newspaper has its own contract.

Deadlock Reported
Brown said the mediators acted on their own motion because of the receipt of information that negotiations between the newspapers and the New York Newspaper Guild were deadlocked.

Mediators were assigned to sit in on joint meetings today for the first time.

The mediators were considering entering the disputes involving the guild and the Times, Herald Tribune, Mirror and Journal-American.

The guild is a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild.

The guild has been seeking a 10 percent general increase, a $200 top minimum weekly wage in the highest category for experienced employees, and a $100 top minimum in the lowest salary category.

A reduction in working hours from the present 35 to 30 a week, and retention of guild jurisdiction despite job changes by automation or otherwise.

The top minimum salaries in the highest category now vary from $164 to $188 in the contracts for all our operations had been different newspapers. Many employees receive more than the minimum.

Radiation Level In Milk Is Low

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The milk industry foundation says radiation fallout levels recorded up to date are well below the danger point for the consumption of milk.

The levels are below those set by the Federal Radiation Council's radiation protection guides, says Norman Myrick of Washington, D.C., the foundation's public relations director, reports.

Myrick told the group's 55th annual convention Monday night that the council had said it did not believe there was any risk of a major health hazard until exposures were many times above the guide levels.

"In spite of all the vast publicity that has been accorded to the subject of radiation, the consumption of milk and milk products has not suffered," he said.

Space Agency Fires Rocket Up 116 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency shot a rocket 116 miles high Monday night to snoot on energetic young stars.

The rocket's nonorbiting 230-pound scientific payload also carried a couple of hitch-hiking instruments which were being road-tested, in effect, in preparation for the launching of the United States' first Orbiting Astronomical Observatory, OAO, satellite in 1964.

2 Die, 30 Hurt As Gravel Truck Runs Into Train

4 Cars Derailed By Impact; Driver Burned to Death

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Two persons died and more than 30 others were injured when a gravel truck rammed the center of a speeding train, spewing rocks and flames over screaming passengers in the coaches.

The impact broke the train in two. One car careened wildly into a trestle and a steel beam from the bridge railing speared into the coach.

Four cars of the seven-car San Diegoan, a Santa Fe train bound for San Diego, were derailed in the wreck Monday. The truck driver was burned to death. A train passenger was the other fatality.

Twenty-nine passengers were hospitalized, many with broken legs. Several others were treated at the scene and released, unidentified.

Navy Recruit Killed
Among the injured was Eugene Mustin, 19, a Navy recruit from Delavan, Wis.

The passenger who died was a Navy recruit seated at the spot where the truck struck.

When it hit seats toppled, passengers flew through the air and rocks the size of golf balls from the truck's load rained down on them.

"The front of the car just peeled right back like a piece of paper being rolled back and big hunks of gravel came flying in," Best, 19, said afterward. "One guy started yelling, 'goodbye' to his buddies."

Driver Identified
The train was traveling about 65 miles an hour when the accident occurred, C. R. Robertson, assistant general manager of Santa Fe, said.

Police identified the dead truck driver as Edward White, 43, Anaheim.

The dead passenger, whose leg was severed in the crash, was Larry Joseph Davis, 21, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He died in surgery at Orange County General Hospital.

"Two cars were pretty well mangled; it was a hell of a mess," said Eugene Miller, Orange County deputy coroner.

The accident occurred three miles from the famed Disneyland amusement park and 25 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

The train, from Los Angeles, carried about 100 passengers, many of them servicemen.

High Space Costs Will Help U. S., Chamber Head Says
NEW YORK (AP)—The astronomical cost of space will ultimately tend to give the United States an advantage in competition with the Soviet Union, U.S. Chamber of Commerce president Ladd Plumley predicts.

Plumley told a dinner meeting Monday of the Harvard Business School Club: "We could if we de-sure—or if military needs should dictate—throw the equivalent of Russia's whole national income into our space effort and still manage to keep a relatively high standard of living."

At a news conference, Plumley said he doesn't believe the United States should—as President Kennedy has offered—guarantee that it will not invade Cuba.

U. S. Flag Burned
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Castro sympathizers planning a stepped-up sabotage campaign throughout Latin America were foiled from bombing American establishments in Santiago and communications facilities in Venezuela, authorities reported.

Pro-Castro demonstrators succeeded in burning an American flag and stoning government headquarters in Uruguay before an estimated 1,000 machete-wielding soldiers and policemen scattered the mob Monday night.

Spurred by the dynamiting Sunday of vital Venezuelan oil installations, Latin-American internal security officials were reported ready to tighten measures against subversive acts allegedly directed by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Explosives Found
The premature blast of a bomb being assembled in a downtown apartment led to the discovery here Monday of a cache of explosives and a list of bomb targets. Police said the list included

Sheriff, DA Duel on Death Investigation

Fond du Lac Ex-Convict Says He Knows Who Killed 'Suicide' Victim

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FOND DU LAC — Sheriff Leo Treleven and Dist. Atty. Donald Marcille were in a raging controversy today on whether to reopen the investigation into the death last May of a Fond du Lac cheese company executive.

Marcille announced late Monday that the case would be reopened on the basis of a statement by an ex-convict who said he "knows who killed LeRoy Sommers."

Sommers, 42, was president of the Full Cream Cheese Co., Malone. His badly burned body was found May 22 in his partly burned car on a rural road seven miles southwest of Fond du Lac. A coroner's inquest gathered information indicating Sommers had taken his own life, the cause of death being listed as carbon monoxide poisoning.

"As far as I am concerned the Sommers case is closed and I am not going to pick anybody up for the district attorney," Treleven said this morning.

Although the coroner's verdict ruled Sommers' death a suicide, his widow has steadfastly maintained he was murdered. There has been speculation in the Fond du Lac area that the Mafia may be connected with the operation of some Italian cheese companies.

Sheriff Requested
Marcille requested Sheriff Treleven to take into custody for "questioning and investigation" a Fond du Lac resident, who the ex-convict said, murdered Sommers.

The sheriff refused to do so. Marcille told the Post-Crescent the ex-convict (his identity was withheld who had provided authorities with the name of the man he said killed Sommers, had been "bothering Mrs. Sommers in recent weeks"). The district attorney said the man made several telephone calls to Mrs. Sommers.

On the advice of authorities and her attorney, Mrs. Sommers arranged a rendezvous with the ex-convict. There were three such meetings, according to Marcille, and each time Fond du Lac city police were hidden nearby and at-

Air Survey of Missile Bases Brought to Halt

Surveillance Is Suspended During Cuban Conferences

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States aerial surveillance of Cuba, as well as its arms blockade, has been stopped for the two days during which acting U.N. Secretary U Thant is conferring in Havana.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, announced at a Pentagon briefing shortly before noon the temporary suspension of the aerial surveillance. The block-

"We are not continuing surveillance today," Sylvester said, then added that it was suspended for the two days of Thant's meeting in Havana.

No Survey Report
Sylvester had no report on the results of aerial reconnaissance flights carried out by U.S. planes Monday.

But he had a further explanation of the delaying in analyzing the reconnaissance photographs.

He said he had talked this morning with top officials in Thant held another round of talks charge of analysis of the pictures. Sylvester said he now could say: "Analysis of aerial pictures entails a meticulous review of the material disclosed and a painstaking comparison of that material with previously obtained material in order to obtain accurate

U. N. Rejects Chinese Reds

General Assembly Spurns Membership By 56 to 42 Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Red China suffered a resounding defeat today when the General Assembly rejected its latest U.N. membership bid by a bigger margin than a year ago.

The vote was 42 in favor, 56 against and 12 abstaining. The result last year was 36 for, 48 against and 20 abstaining. In both cases it was far less than the required two-thirds majority.

The main switch was among some of the new African members.

The vote was seen as a big victory for the Western powers who had strongly opposed the seating of Red China. They argued that the Peiping regime's military action against India demonstrated its unfitness for membership.

At the last minute, some of the African countries came out for a two China plan under which both Red China and the Chinese Nationalists would get U.N. seats.

They declined, however, to make a formal proposal to this effect, to liquidate the gains of the Cuban revolution.

The vote was on a Soviet resolution calling for the ouster of the Chinese Nationalist delegations from all U.N. organs and the seating of delegations representing Red China.

One was set off Monday and two on Sunday, according to the AEC, sending Red China.

18-Man U.N. Team Boards Jet With Him; Checkup on Bases Among Objectives

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, left for Cuba today on a mission dedicated to "a speedy and peaceful settlement" of the situation which brought a world-alarming crisis between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Smiling and seemingly confident, Thant and an 18-man U.N. team took off by chartered jet. He paused to make only a brief statement before boarding the jet at Idlewild Airport.

It was in response to a single question as to whether he was confident of the success of his mission.

"I am looking forward to a fruitful exchange of ideas with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and other Cuban leaders with a view to achieving a speedy and peaceful settlement of the problem," he said.

U.N. Team Aboard
Thant was accompanied by a U.N. team as he left to set up machinery for a U.N. check to make sure Soviet Premier Khrushchev keeps his pledge to remove Soviet missile bases from Cuban soil.

In preparation for his trip, Thant held another round of talks Monday with top diplomats of the United States, Soviet Union and Cuba.

The way for Thant's visit was smoothed by the White House announcement that at the secretary-general's request it would lift the U.S. naval blockade during his stay.

Letter to Khrushchev
Thant released a letter he sent Khrushchev Sunday expressing belief the situation in the Caribbean area would be normalized when the missiles are pulled out and the bases dismantled.

Thant still faced the ticklish job of winning Prime Minister Fidel Castro's approval for the U.N. inspection procedure worked out in conjunction with U.S. and Soviet officials.

Informed sources said Thant got President Kennedy's permission to convey to Castro the President's pledge not to invade Cuba. The United Nations announced

Pravda Declares U. S. Had No Ground For Action on Cuba
MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party organ Pravda today claimed President Kennedy had no ground for ordering an arms blockade of Cuba.

Giving their version of the events of last week, Pravda commentators Yuri Zhukov and Viktor Maevsky write from New York: "The week began with a speech by United States President Kennedy who, without any foundation, suddenly proclaimed a blockade of two China plan under which both Red China and the Chinese Nationalists would get U.N. seats."

The article reiterated Premier Khrushchev's assertion that Soviet weapons "were sent to Cuba exclusively for aims of self-defense."

Room to Negotiate
There are some Americans, in official and private life, who may feel a twinge of disenchantment because the crisis of last week did not reach the point of an invasion of Cuba.

The prospect of better understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union, which is now a possibility, will still leave Fidel Castro in Havana, weakened though he may have been by the unwillingness of his manager, Khrushchev, to go

GOP Wary of Any 'Deal' With Soviets

Fear Removal of Missiles From Cuba Might Provide Permanent Base for Communism in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Senate Republicans warned today against any Soviet missile-removal agreement that might provide a permanent sanctuary for communism in Cuba.

The Republicans said they would oppose any U.S. guarantee that Fidel Castro's Cuban government would be protected from Western Hemisphere harassment.

In agreeing Sunday to pull his missile bases out of Cuba, Soviet Premier Khrushchev told President Kennedy in a message.

Democrat Says GOP Planning Anti-Labor Law

Wiley Returning To Wisconsin for Late Campaigning

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

William Evans, Democratic candidate for attorney general, said Monday that workers "should not be deceived by the promises of Republican candidates that they will not entertain labor crippling legislation."

Evans told a labor meeting in Janesville the statements were "promises that can be broken just as easily as those made in 1958 and 1960."

"Your vote is the only way of preventing passage of a right-to-work law in 1963 by a Republican governor and legislature," he added.

Day With Ike

Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., said Monday he is planning to return home for last-minute campaigning before next Tuesday's election. He spent part of Monday at the Gettysburg, Pa., farm of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Wiley said he and Eisenhower discussed the Cuban crisis, threats of communism and other national and international issues.

"Obtaining the former President's views on a variety of national policies and programs was extremely valuable," said Wiley, who was called to Washington with other congressional figures at the outset of the Cuban crisis Oct. 22.

Avoiding Issues

Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate for Wiley's post, has said the senator was not returning to Wisconsin "because he is not prepared to discuss the issues."

In announcing he was returning home Wiley said, "The political opposition, finding itself drowning in its own political trivia, has had the reckless audacity to try to label 'dedication to duty' as 'hiding out' from the campaign."

"Because of these factors, as well as some progress toward resolution of the Cuban crisis, I shall be coming home to Wisconsin."

Telephone Calls Protest 'Hands Off Cuba' Talks

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Telephone calls protesting a scheduled "hands-off-Cuba" meeting tonight on the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee campus were reported Monday night by several school officials.

Joseph W. Kenny, faculty secretary in charge of arranging meeting space said the calls were from individuals objecting to the meeting scheduled by the Socialist Workers Party.

Kenny said university regulations permit one such meeting by each political party during a campaign if space is available. However, he said, the request of the Socialist Workers Party was the first of a political nature he has received in the year he has been handling space arrangements.

Ike Says GOP Helped Give U. S. Strength

Claims Republicans Spurred Kennedy To Forceful Action

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says Republicans had a major role in giving the United States the armed strength that enabled it to take a strong stand against the Soviet Union in the Cuba crisis.

Eisenhower also told 10,000 cheering Republicans at a dinner Monday night that GOP leaders had helped spur President Kennedy to forceful action.

Although tensions are now eased, the Republican leader said, "We have no reason to relax" and the Soviet threat "we will bury you" still stands.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking re-election, shared the platform at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium with Eisenhower, who has been campaigning through the country in support of GOP candidates.

Rockefeller Endorsed

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

He hit at Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother who is Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate for Massachusetts, saying he was implying he has "fre entry through all doors in Washington."

Eisenhower's 21-minute speech, interrupted 17 times by applause, appeared to be designed to crack down Democratic efforts to monopolize credit for the Cuban developments.

Knife-Wielding Burglar Shot by Priest in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A knife-wielding burglar was shot by a priest early today in the rectory of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church after, police said, he fatally stabbed the housekeeper and seriously wounded her sister.

After shooting the burglar, the priest, the Rev. Stephen O'Donnell, 49, tackled him and held him to the floor until police arrived. Police identified the burglar as Larry Vernon, 22, of San Antonio, Tex. They said he broke into the rectory and invaded the first-floor room where the two sisters, Betty Walsh, 44, and Peggy 36, a cook at the rectory, were asleep.

Priests Awake

The sisters ran from the bed room and shouted to awaken Father O'Donnell and the Rev. Daniel Holihan, who were asleep on the second floor.

Vernon, carrying two knives, stabbed the older sister twice and slashed at the younger woman. Betty Walsh fell dead at the foot of the rectory stairs and her sister collapsed on the stairway.

Father O'Donnell, pastor of the West Side church, and Father Holihan told police they saw Vernon ransacking the living room. Father O'Donnell, who had obtained a pistol when he heard the screams, fired once, hitting Vernon in the left leg.

Vernon was held under guard in the Cook County Hospital.

Mass Forms Discussed at Rome Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prelates at the Roman Catholic Vatican Ecumenical Council discussed ways today of keeping worshipers from becoming "indifferent and mute spectators" at Mass.

The council fathers—cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops from around the world—examined questions pertaining to the Eucharist as they continued their review of a proposed constitution on liturgy—public worship.

A spokesman said there were 23 speakers at a three-hour closed session in St. Peter's. The spokesman said many of the council fathers expressed the view that worshipers should be given "greater knowledge of all parts of the Mass and more intimate participation in the Mass."

The Roman Catholic Mass is said in Latin but worshipers may follow the Mass with a missal containing a translation of the Latin into the national language.

Smallest Session

Today's session was attended by 2,257 prelates—the smallest number yet. Nearly 300 council fathers have temporarily left Rome to attend to diocesan affairs. Bernard Jan Cardinal Alfink, archbishop of Utrecht, Holland, presided at the meeting.

The spokesman said speakers showed "deep interest" in projecting non-Western culture into some aspects of the liturgy in an effort to adapt to local mentalities and traditions.

Along these lines, speakers again discussed the use of vernacular, or modern, languages in place of Latin in parts of the Mass, especially the teaching parts.

Some speakers expressed a need for a broader choice of scriptural texts in the Mass.

The spokesman said some council fathers, discussing the Eucharist, spoke about "communion under two species"—bread and wine, instead of bread alone, the present form.

A Vatican source reported, meanwhile, the council would recess from Dec. 8 until after Easter.

The council had been generally expected to adjourn about Dec. 10 tries since the series began April until about Jan. 10. It opened Oct. 11.

Dec. 8 is the Feast Day of the Immaculate Conception. Easter falls on April 14.

War and Peace Specialist

McCloy Experienced in Pleading the U. S. Case

BY HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—John J. McCloy is a lawyer who specializes in the problems of war and peace — of arms and disarmament.

Few have had more experience in pleading the U. S. case at the world's conference tables. He has debated the Berlin crisis and disarmament with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He has argued the perils of the nuclear race with Valerian A. Zorin in Geneva.

McCloy, 67, was picked by President Kennedy Monday to head a three-man diplomatic team whose job will be to pin down in U.N. negotiations Khrushchev's promises to dismantle and remove the Soviet missile threat in Cuba.

Harvard Graduate

McCloy, who was graduated from Harvard after a hitch as an artillery captain in World War I, began his government work in the days of Germany's blitz in Europe.

He began as an expert in the art of cloak and dagger. He had made himself a reputation in that field by chasing clues through Europe to win a case that German agents were responsible for blowing up a Hoboken, N. J., munitions plant in 1916.

In April 1941 he was appointed assistant secretary of war. In that job, he helped press lend lease through Congress, fostered the intelligence unit that helped to break the Japanese codes, and helped to prepare armistice and surrender terms.

He attended the historic conferences at Casablanca, Cairo and Potsdam, as well as the United Nations conference at San Francisco in 1945.

After the war, McCloy returned to private practice but kept his hands in the councils of Washington.

U. S. Nuclear Test Planned for Tonight

HONOLULU (AP)—Unless weather or technical problems interfere, the United States will explode a high-altitude nuclear warhead above Johnston Island in the Pacific tonight.

If successful, the test will be the fourth in eight high altitude expected to adjourn about Dec. 10 tries since the series began April until about Jan. 10. It opened Oct. 25.

Joint Task Force 8 officials refused comment on whether it will be the last in the Pacific test series.

ton, serving on the State Department's Committee on Atomic Energy.

In 1947 Republican McCloy became president of the World Bank.

President Harry S. Truman handed him his next mission in June 1949—U.S. high commissioner of Germany. In the following years he became the architect of the agreements that transformed West Germany from a war-battered occupied nation to a prospering sovereign state.

Bank Chairman

In 1953, McCloy left government to become chairman of the Chase National Bank. Before his retirement in December 1960 he saw to it merged with the Bank of Manhattan Co. and became the nation's second largest commercial bank.

McCloy, who had served as an unofficial disarmament adviser for President Eisenhower, was tapped by President-elect Kennedy to be his official adviser on disarmament and negotiations. In that job he carried the U.S. case for a nuclear test ban to the conference at Geneva.

The conference's goal of a test ban went up in smoke when the Soviet Union broke the voluntary test moratorium.

McCloy was back in harness soon, this time serving as a special consultant to U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

Kennedy Determined To Keep Freedom of Action Intact on Cuba

Every Soviet Word, Maneuver, Tactic Being Carefully Watched

BY PETER LISAGOR

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The diplomatic string is being played out in the Cuban crisis under a careful surveillance by the U.S. government. Every Soviet word, deed, tactic and maneuver is being warily watched.

Informed officials insist that President Kennedy is determined to keep his freedom of action intact and not to get caught up in Soviet stalling attempts or in devious efforts to immunize the Castro regime from any future collective action that may be required to deal with it.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is reliably known to have assured other Latin America states that the U.S. attitude toward a communist regime in this hemisphere is unchanged by recent events.

It is expected that the United States will not have a definitive word on the Soviet pledge to get the Cuban-based missiles dismantled and out of the island until acting U.N. Secretary General U Thant's return from Havana, probably on Thursday.

Cooperative Gesture

The temporary suspension of the U.S. arms blockade, made at U Thant's request, is described here as simply a cooperative gesture inasmuch as no Soviet ships are presently homing on Cuba.

It has also been reported that the United States is prepared to offer to put under U.N. authority the continued aerial surveillance of the Soviet missile sites while the dismantling is in progress.

However, there are disquieting signs here of possible hitches in the diplomatic discussions at the U.N. One haunting question is whether the President will agree to make an agreement with the Soviet Union not to invade Cuba or not to sanction an invasion of the Soviet missile sites from any quarter.

Although the U.S. Chief Executive has said that the United States had no plans to invade Cuba until the injection of the missiles changed the picture, some authorities make a distinction between a unilateral promise and an agreement with Moscow.

Diluting Impact

The latter would tie this government's hands and go far toward diluting the impact of last week's action that quarantined Cuba and caused the Soviets to draw back from a confrontation with American force.

An uneasiness about Soviet intentions also arises from tentative judgments here that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at least displayed signs of the jitters last week, as reflected in conflicting proposals from the Kremlin during the height of the crisis and at a time when the United States was poised for direct military action against the missile sites.

The experts are divided upon the degree of struggle that may have gone on within the Kremlin. One group believes that the struggle was serious and that Khrushchev's position might have been involved.

The other tends to minimize any personal trouble for Khrushchev but agrees that those Kremlinites who pressed for the plan to install missiles in Cuba, presumably with the certainty that they could get away with it, are probably in disrepute now.

London Paper Hails Kennedy Cuban Decision

Daily Mail Says President Proves Western Leadership

BY WILLIAM STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Service

LONDON — "The United States has heartened and encouraged its friends and allies, and Mr. Kennedy's stature has grown mightily. By this one act of forceful policy he has made good his claim to Western leadership and secured his place among outstanding presidents."

In those words the London Daily Mail today expressed the feelings of what Americans would call "the steady Englishman" after the most nerve-racking week this country has known since the buzz bombs and the rockets suddenly threatened victory in 1944.

The Daily Mail was entitled to speak for the section of the popu-

How to gain peace of mind

In our relentless race for social and economic success, we may hurt ourselves by self-criticism, penalize ourselves with worry and fear.

lation that was "good" throughout the week of tension. It and the Daily Express were the only two British national dailies that never deviated from the idea that the United States was right to challenge the Soviet Union and must go through with its demand for the dismantlement of the Soviet bases in Cuba.

"Subtle and Masterly"
The Daily Mail had already distinguished itself on Monday by producing the most telling phrase of the crisis: "We have all been near enough to hell to smell the brimstone."

In its editorial today the paper wrote:

"The Americans are said to be a naive and impulsive people who go barging about the world, saying the wrong things, making the wrong decisions, and generally putting their feet into it. If such a reputation was ever deserved, Cuba has expunged it. The handling of the crisis has been subtle and masterly."

"It is hard for others to realize what a violation of Cuba meant to the U. S. The island has been compared with Antwerp, that pistol leveled at the heart of England, and the Russian missiles likened to hostile rockets planted in Ireland."

"Though the British would react violently to an invasion of these places, we should say the Americans are even more sensitive to a threat from Cuba or anywhere else in the Caribbean."

"The integrity of the Americas has been more than a political formula for them. It is a symbol of their nationhood."

"In addition, they were haunted by the memory of the fiasco of the ill timed, ill planned expedition to the Bay of Pigs, which darkened Mr. Kennedy's first year of office. In such circumstances an immature government and people would have seized the first opportunity for revenge and have blasted off, heedless of the consequences. This was not the American reaction."

"There were many loud demands for war with Cuba, but

Churches Combine For Reformation Day Observance

The Rev. William Larsen, D. D., secretary of the American Lutheran Church with offices in Minneapolis, Minn., delivered the Reformation Day message to members of the American Lutheran churches of the Fox Cities area Sunday evening in Appleton.

The Reformation Festival Workshop was held at the new Grace Lutheran Church, Appleton.

The combined choirs of the First English Lutheran Church, Grace Lutheran Church and Zion Lutheran Church joined in the Reformation Anthems, with Kenneth Sager directing. The Rev. Wilbur Troge, host pastor, conducted the liturgical services.

Following the worship, the members of Grace Lutheran Church served refreshments.

Participating in the Reformation Workshop were members of Grace, First English and Zion Lutheran churches, Appleton; Our Savior Lutheran Church, Neenah, and other Lutheran churches of the surrounding area.

Dr. Larsen, before his election as secretary of the American Lutheran Church in 1960, served as president of the former United Evangelical Lutheran Church which entered into the American Lutheran Church merger.

For many years he had served as National Lutheran Church campus pastor at the University of Minnesota.

He served as secretary at the American Lutheran Church convention in Milwaukee last week.

these were the surface froth on a large volume of sound common sense. Only a few weeks ago the opinion polls reported a majority opposed to an invasion of Cuba.

"We turn to the President. He resisted all pressures until Tuesday, Oct. 16, when he knew he must do something about Cuba. For on that day he had proof of the Soviet missile emplacements."

"Even then he did not act precipitately. He demanded checks and rechecks. By the end of the week the evidence that the Russian buildup was proceeding with extreme rapidity became so alarming that he decided to end it."

"It was a situation demanding a cool head and steady nerves above normal standards—and Kennedy displayed them. His decision to blockade was exactly right."

Liner's Passengers Checked for Smallpox

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — The liner Orion docked here Sunday and 52 passengers were placed under daily medical surveillance for smallpox symptoms.

The Orion, which sailed from Sydney, put a 21-year-old Asian ashore at Suez. He turned out to have smallpox. Since then the 650 crew and 1,150 passengers were vaccinated.

The ship was quarantined at Naples and Marseilles.

State GOP Senator Calls for Single State Education Board

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Higher education officialdom was startled last week when Sen. Frank Panzer, one of the seniors among the ruling group in the Republican legislature, without warning but with stern certainty called for single board control of the state's programs of higher education.

The speech of the president of the state senate at the Legislative Council during a discussion of expansion of university and state college services may be a tip-off on what to look for if he and the Republicans continue in control of the 1963 legislature.

What Panzer was evidently declaring was his conviction that the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, set up in 1955 as a compromise alternative for unified control of the colleges and the university, has not worked out. There are others who share that view.

GOP Worried

Key men of the headquarters of Philip Kuehn, the Republican nominee for the governorship, are desperately worried that the momentum of their campaign, after many months, will falter just before the election.

Kuehn has been ahead, according to most independent appraisals, but the margin is not great enough to permit any relaxation of effort, as the Republican headquarters staffers will warn local GOP politicians in a series of bulletins during the final days of the drive for votes.

The sustained absence from their capital offices of the principal elected officials of the state

Appleton Man Named Special Gifts Chairman For Heart Fund Drive

C. Donald Genge, 415 E. Circle St., has been named special gifts division chairman for the Wisconsin Heart Association's 1963 Heart Fund campaign.

Genge's appointment was announced by Robert J. Spooner, 72 Garden Court, who will head the Appleton Heart Fund appeal next February.

Genge, a vice-president at the First National Bank of Appleton, said he would enlist unit chairmen to assist him. His division will contact selected individuals and corporations for larger contributions beginning in late January and continuing until Feb. 15.

A veteran of the 1961 Heart Fund campaign in which he served on the advance gifts committee, Genge is also a director of the Badger Bankers Club, a member of the Lions and Elks clubs, and the Sales and Marketing Executive's Club.

government again underlines one of the costs of the short term system under which the state government's elected leadership has traditionally operated.

Gov. Nelson has been away day after day for months, as has Attorney General Reynolds. State Treasurer Dena Smith and Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman are on duty more regularly, but probably the reason is that they are less in demand by their party organization, or less worried about success at the polls in November.

Those Radio Speeches

Some of the politicians' speeches delivered in the state radio network campaign forum series are so casually composed

Two Men Receive U. S. Patent for New Process

Richard E. Baum, Appleton, and Wilbert P. Daniels, Green Bay, are recipients of a U. S. patent entitled "Method of Packaging Goods."

Stacked paper sheets are separated by slight air spaces. Best packaging results are obtained when this air is expelled from between the sheets by compacting methods. Baum and Daniels have invented a process to compress the sheets and package them simultaneously.

The box in which the sheets are stacked is coated on the outside with an adhesive. The inner surfaces of the sides of the cover also are coated with this adhesive. The adhesive is of a self-adherent, pressure-sensitive type and does not adhere to anything other than a surface coated with it.

The box is filled with paper sheets to a height exceeding its depth. The cover is telescoped over the box and vertical pressure is applied to compress the contents. When maximum compression is reached, pressure is exerted on all four sides of the cover, forcing contact and adhesion of the cover and box. A sturdy package in which the contents are under pressure is produced.

Baum and Daniels have assigned their patent to Green Bay Box Company, Green Bay.

Botanists Say Some Weeds Are Delicate

GULEPH, Ont. (AP) — Since it established a weed garden to aid in studies of weeds, the botany department of Ontario Agricultural College has found some weeds are harder to grow than other plants.

Devised by Dr. C. M. Switzer, the department's authority on weeds, the garden gives visitors an opportunity to see properly identified weeds growing in familiar surroundings. It is also two of the very young members used by OAC students taking weed identification courses.

Dr. Switzer said farmers and gardeners might not believe it, but certain types of weeds are hard to grow.

and indifferently delivered as to suggest their conviction that nobody is listening, and that they are turning up only to avoid being publicized as absentees.

Some of them may also startle some listeners, tuning in suddenly, who have been persuaded that these are "educational" broadcasting stations.

One man became so irate that he telephoned a statehouse correspondent to demand who had authorized the use of tax money for the dissemination of such "nonsense" as he had picked up from the state broadcasting system. The idea is, sir, to give all candidates qualified in the primary elections, even those who get no other publicity, a chance to tell their stories to such voters as may want to listen.

The Legislative Council has a committee assigned to the task of reviewing what is called "remedial" legislation, supposedly technical corrections and routine clarifications submitted by state administrative agencies that are not worth the attention of the topical interim committees.

But that "remedial" legislation committee is turning in some propositions that are raising some critical eyebrows, and will draw some fire when the next legislature meets. One of them that was turned in a big stack the other day would change the municipal bonding laws in such a way that it inevitably be controversial.

Question Process

Assemblyman Kyle Kenyon of Monroe County, reporting for his committee, acknowledged that his group had heard "only one side of the story" and that legislators will want to examine them carefully again.

But some legislative leaders are wondering whether this is a wise technique, and whether it is within the open and democratic traditions of the Wisconsin legislative process to permit departments to sponsor legislative changes for such circumstances. At the least, it offers temptations to the bureaucratic lobbyist who has difficulties with his propositions in ordinary channels.

Reports about the poor health of Assemblyman David Blanchard of Rock County are supporting the impression that the Republicans will choose another speaker of the Wisconsin assembly if they continue in control of the legislature's lower house after the elections.

The leading candidate will be Assemblyman Robt. Haase of Marinette, the GOP floorleader in the 1961 session.

A curious sidelight to the fierce wrangles and parliamentary tangles of the interim commission of citizens and legislators considering the problem of juvenile beer drinking and driving is the insistence upon tougher controls by one of the very young members of the group. They are Harvey Rowe, a recent college graduate from Sturgeon Bay who is now working in the state department of public welfare, and Assemblyman William Steiger of Shkosh.

Fox Cities People to Aid Diocese Drive

Episcopal Church Seeking $400,000 In Area Campaign

Several Fox Cities area residents will serve as chairmen in the $400,000 capital needs fund drive of the Episcopal Diocese of Fond du Lac, which begins Sunday and continues through Nov. 11.

The campaign—the first diocese-wide fund-raising campaign in the 88-year history of the Episcopal Church in northeastern Wisconsin—will provide funds for the establishment of new missions, for loans and grants to churches and for college work, for a new diocesan headquarters building and renovation of the bishop's house.

More than 800 workers will call on the entire diocesan membership after being consecrated to their task at Sunday morning services. On Friday evening, team captains and workers will meet at dinners in every Episcopal parish to receive campaign instructions. Report meetings for all workers will be on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of the campaign week, with the final report meeting on Sunday, Nov. 11.

General lay chairman is Arnold W. F. Langner Jr., Sheboygan Falls, and diocesan clerical chairman is the Rev. James W. Samter, Green Bay.

Fox Cities area chairmen include Carl E. Steiger, Oshkosh, diocesan special gifts chairman; the Rev. Thomas K. Chaffee, Menasha, speaker's bureau chairman; E. William Aylward, Neenah, district lay chairman; the Rev. Canon Edward C. Lewis, Stevens Point, and the Rev. Howard G. F. Kayser, Antigo, district clerical chairman; and Mrs. Kenneth Beyer, Shawano; Mrs. Frederick Linley, Ripon, and Mrs. Kenneth C. Blakes, Stevens Point, women's chairmen.

Mission for Women Held

Appleton Church Schedules Men's Services Nov. 4

Two Redemptorist Fathers are preaching a daily mission for women at St. Mary Catholic Church, Appleton this week. A similar mission for men will be next week.

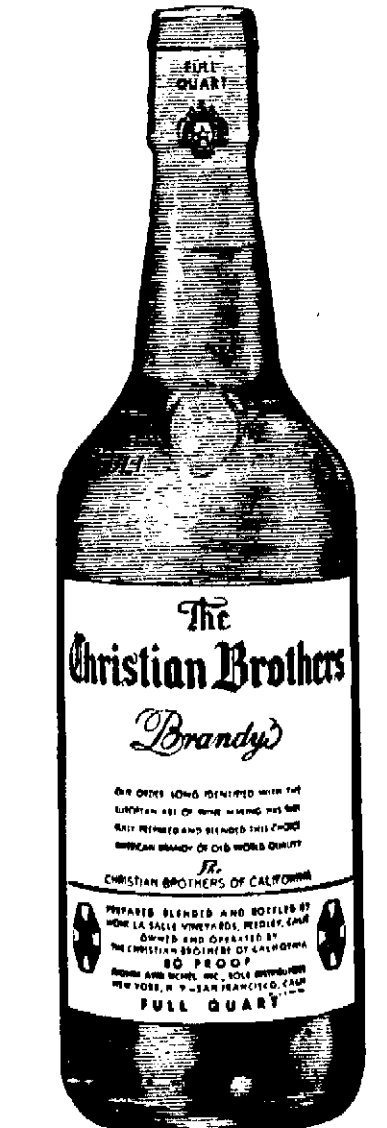

The priests conducting the mission are the Rev. Edward Nugent, who is stationed at the Perpetual Help Retreat House, Oconomowoc, and the Rev. Gerard Boucher, who is stationed in Chicago.

The mission includes instructions following the 5:15 and 9 a.m. masses daily, and the main service at 7:30 p.m. daily. The evening service includes the rosary, a sermon and benediction.

The mission for women will end Saturday evening, and the mission for men will run from Sunday through the following Saturday. The mission is open to non-Catholics as well as Catholics.

The priests also are talking to the children at St. Mary School in the mornings and afternoons.

Persons in college think they have more brains than the common folks but for "some" of them good common sense. I just hope it won't take a serious injury or an innocent person killed to bring these college people to their senses. After all college people, we want our children here for the tomorrow to get their college education also.

Two Kinds of Time, Real, Psychological

This is the prime fact of our "real" time today; in the light of which, the rioting Flemings and Wallons seem as anachronistic as the Battle of the Frogs and Mice. Mankind is haunted by its past — like a neurotic patient, it cannot throw off its bondage to infantile memories — and remains fixed in an attitude of childish antagonism — living compulsively in psychological time, and unaware that real time is fast running out on a day of us.

No Gloating In U. S. Over Red Backdown

Leaders Realize
There Could be Worse Than Nikita

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The absence of public gloating by the Kennedy administration over Premier Khrushchev's retreat on Cuba is understandable. There could be worse than Khrushchev. There are also two other good reasons for something less than wild rejoicing: Khrushchev still has to make good on his promise to pull his missiles out of Cuba; and the trouble with Fidel Castro hasn't been settled at all. If right now there is Kremlin conflict over the Soviet blunder and embarrassment in Cuba, open glee by American officials might be enough to tip the scales in favor of Khrushchev's tougher-line opponents and thus wreck him.

More Human
Over the years he has made noise, been a pain in the neck, and often been dangerous. But because he was more human and flexible than Stalin, he was an improvement on the old tyrant.

For example: When Stalin got the notion to drive the Allies out of Berlin, he blockaded the city. This eventually failed, but it could have meant war. Khrushchev wants to seal off Berlin, too, but he has stalled for four years in trying it.

If Khrushchev should lose out now in a power struggle because of his backdown in Cuba, it seems certain his successor would be a hard-nosed Communist more like Stalin than Khrushchev.

It was sheer clumsiness for the Soviet Union to put missiles in Cuba and not be prepared for something more impressive than a complete cave-in if the United States forced a showdown, as it did.

Kremlin Conflict
That there is conflict in the Kremlin over this blunder seems likely. Obvious confusion and indecision showed up in the contradictory messages Khrushchev sent President Kennedy before finally giving in.

Just because an internal Soviet leadership struggle may be going on now, Khrushchev's promise to take his missiles back home can't be accepted as fact until he actually does it. This is sufficient reason for the Kennedy administration to keep its fingers crossed until the missiles are gone.

Khrushchev has handled Castro in all this as if he were a nobody. Yet, just because the Soviet Union has been his main source of supplies and his only real hope of survival, Castro can hardly afford a break with Khrushchev.

The Russian made no promises to keep Castro quiet. And Castro hasn't been. So long as he bosses Cuba he will be a menace to the rest of the Latin American countries through the internal trouble he can create for them.

No Invasion
While Kennedy promised—if the missiles were withdrawn—that the United States would not invade Cuba, this did not say this country and other American republics would not work for his downfall.

Their problem is how, without a direct American invasion. Yet, they can't sit idly by while Castro, through his agents and local Communists, tries to wreck one Latin American country after another.

Since Castro couldn't survive without Soviet supplies—for instance, oil—then any subversion he attempts against his neighbors must be considered Soviet subversion as much as it is Castro's.

Therefore the withdrawal of the Soviet missiles, instead of being the end of a chapter, was like a printer's error in a story only partly written and far from finished.

Farmer Injured As Fire Causes $2,500 Damage

SCANDINAVIA — A fire which destroyed a 16 by 22-foot garage at the James Johnson farm, 2.5 miles east of here shortly after noon Saturday resulted in an estimated loss of $2,500.

Johnson suffered minor burns when he went into the garage to attempt to shut off the gasoline tank, which was left running by one of his sons. Gasoline spilled on his trousers and he jumped into a water tank to put out the fire.

Fire Chief William Mork said the fire apparently started when gasoline was spilled onto a manifold of a tractor. Firemen put out the fire with fog nozzles.

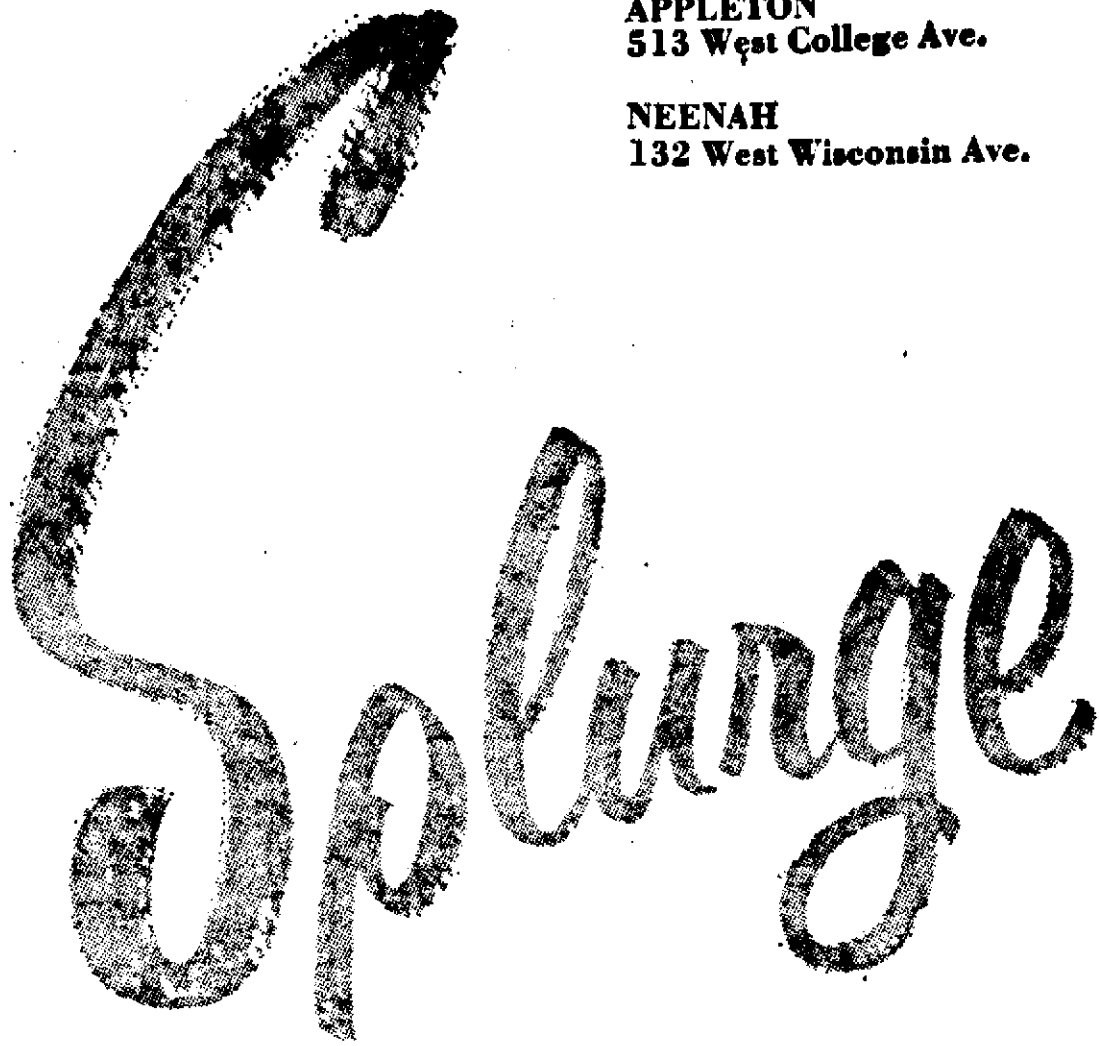

The 250-gallon gasoline tank in the garage did not explode. The gasoline, however, poured under the tractor, which was destroyed with other hand tools and equipment kept in the garage.

Words often misused: Do not say, "He is awfully witty." He who is cleverly amusing would never stir up a feeling of awe. It is better to say, "He is very (or, exceedingly) witty."

Often misspelled: Bivouac (verb, present tense). Bivouacked (past tense).

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: pharisaical; outwardly, but not inwardly, religious; hypocritical; self-righteous and censorious of others' manners and morals. (Pronounce fair-i-say-i-kal, principal accent on third syllable). "These reformers, unclean in their own lives, accused from the Viking Theatre were truly a pharisaical crowd."

Swan Theater Offers Evening to Remember

Drama, Supper, Music, Art All Part Of Milwaukee Entertainment Project

JINGO The holidays are on their way and part of the fun, of course, for the younger set will be the cluster of big dates. With the football season drawing to a close, the dates are losing that good old, ready-made get together and some ingenuity will have to be put into gear.

Jingo, alas, can't qualify for the younger set, but if he could qualify there is a special kind of date he'd arrange.

The ingredients of this date would be a fine dinner in interesting surroundings as a starter, an evening at the theater to watch a good company headed by a star of some magnitude in a well directed and mounted play and, finally, some dancing and a midnight snack.

You see? Jingo still can think young. In fact, date like that wouldn't be too far off base for any age or occasion.

As outlined, the date might have the objection of entailing too many shifts of scenes, too much traveling between its parts and too much of a danger of running into SRO crowds—in other words, too much planning.

But the objection can be destroyed with simplicity itself. Such an evening is offered from September to June every night at Mondays at the Swan Theater and Supper Club in Milwaukee.

Before New Year's Eve this year, the Swan Theater was a dream, a tremendous gamble. On New Year's Eve it became a reality, but still a gamble.

The moving force behind the dream and gamble is Ray Boyle, erstwhile managing director of the Fred Miller Theater. Also among the Swan's movers is Sam Lawrence, the attorney-composer who provided the Miller with its first full scale, original musical, "Adam, the Creator."

The Swan is the adaptation of the old Antler Ballroom. The door at 624 N. Second St. opens into a box office and a sweeping stairway to the bar and supper club. For the last month, dominating this staircase were the works of that Appleton native artist whose parents now live in Neenah, Bill Buxton.

Most of this Swan show will move into Lawrence's Worcester Gallery Thursday as Bill hangs his second Fox Cities show. The Swan art show changes every month and Boyle has declared the Buxton show the best so far.

The supper club is done in the subdued light and plush overtones of the late 19th Century. There is one anachronism which jars not at all. That is the heavy of long-limbed, pertly dressed waitresses.

The theater has been created out of the old ballroom proper. Its stage—like its 18th Century namesake—is three sided. In the dance floor has been created tiered seats and in the balcony is the Champagne Horseshoe where patrons sit at tables and can partake of refreshments during the show.

In the continental traditions, intermissions find the patrons making their way down the plush stairway to the supper club where the Jeri Lee Trio hold forth for listening and dancing pleasure.

When the final word of the play has been spoken, it's difficult to leave the congenial surroundings and impossible to forget it.

Believe It or Not, this is a boy, Denis Gilmore, in a wig as he prepares for a costume performance with the celebrated Vienna Boys Choir in one of the two Walt Disney Movies opening Wednesday at the Appleton Theater. This scene is from "Almost Angels," starring the famous choir and sundry young actors. The second Disney feature is the charming cartoon story about two dogs, "The Lady and the Tramp." The theater will present matinee as well as evening performances.

Hungarian Goulash Was in keeping with the gypsy theme at North Shore Golf Club Saturday evening. Above, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Suechting, Neenah, add their culinary talents to the enterprise.

North Shore Members Travel in Gypsy Caravan Saturday Evening

The gypsy life was adopted Saturday evening as members of North Shore Golf Club donned the colorful garb of the wanderer for their Gypsy Caravan dinner dance. Bright beads and large earrings were worn by those who chose to come attired in costume. The woman or man wearing the largest earrings was awarded a bottle of champagne.

An iron pot hung on a tripod in the dining room was the serving piece for Hungarian chicken and goulash. Tongue with olives and strudel carried out the Rumanian and Hungarian theme of the food.

Old gypsy fortune telling powers were called on as palmist Mrs. Lydia Knickerbocker told her clients about past, present and future.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. Heroman Jr., Neenah, were party chairmen.

One of the 'Gypsies' Hair-Dos at the party was worn by Mrs. H. T. Collier as she enacted the role of a gypsy at the North Shore Golf Club party. The coiffure was made possible by donning one of the new wig hats. She is shown above with her husband, choosing from the variety of foods offered the hungry wanderers.

R. B. Sawtell, Neenah, and Mrs. J. R. Ward, left, were almost dwarfed by the gentleman Moon who shone down on the Gypsy Caravan Saturday evening. Above, Mrs. Lydia Knickerbocker, Appleton, peers through a magnifying glass to better decipher the meanings in the palm of Mrs. C. Francis Jenkins, Menasha. A tent decorated with brilliantly colored scarves housed the 'gypsy fortune teller.' (Post-Crescent Photos)

Bringing Up Baby.

Toddlers are by nature inquisitive and acquisitive. (Ever know one who didn't want everything he could lay his hands on?) And somehow, your favorite "what-nots" are always most desirable. A few helps to satisfy baby's curiosity... spare your breakables and your patience:

- Let baby have safe things to inspect. Pots 'n' pans have great play and put-together value.
- It's wise to remove non-touchables before baby sees them. Be surprised how this cuts down "no-no's."

Thumbs down. You can cut down excessive thumb-sucking if you: (1) provide toys and play 2-way games that require the use of both hands; (2) distract your toddler with a finger-food snack.

Armour Pork and Beef, plus non-fat dry milk. The happy result? Flavor galore... quality protein to spare. More protein, far less fat than regular sausages. P.S. Gerber Meat Sticks make wonderful sandwich fillings for older children.

Shoe cue. Toddlers dearly love to do things with their hands. Why not give your pet a pair of outgrown shoes to play with? He'll have fun trying to lace 'em, acquire dexterity to boot.

Table talk for tots with more "grown-up" tastes. Gerber Junior Foods are seasoned with a just-right touch for developing taste buds. Straight food flavors sing! Combination foods, like the dinners or high meat dinners, are wonderfully tasty... have a "second helping" quality to tempt even a persnickiest eater. As for nourishment, Gerber Junior Foods are prepared to preserve the utmost in nutritive values. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Warm Assurance

The heaviest clothes are not necessarily the warmest. If you're looking for a lightweight, yet warm jacket or coat for a small child who has been weighted down by bulky outer garments, look at the lining tag for urethane foam. Clothes lined with urethane are less than half the weight of outerwear lined with bulkier materials—but up to twice as warm. This year more manufacturers are using water-and-weather-proof material laminated to urethane for neatly styled, lightweight children's clothes.

Hand Lotion

It is not only chic, it is also smart to wear gloves on raw, windy days. As extra precaution, insulate the hands with a special cool weather lotion made of two ounces of glycerine, three ounces of witch hazel and two ounces of rosewater.

Renew Old Lampshade

A problem that many budget-conscious families have is what to do with old lampshades. The frame is in perfect condition, but the cover has seen better days. Do you throw it away or do you spend money to have it recovered? The answer is to cover it yourself. The job is not at all complicated, and it's fun to do.

First experiment with a shade, using inexpensive fabric and trim, until you have all the kinks worked out of the project. You can then re-do your good shades with a steady hand, using shantung, raw linen, etc. and fine trimmings.

Fold the fabric in half, wrong side out. The fabric should be absolutely even all around. Machine stitch the two short side together (figure 2). Trim the seam and turn right side out.

Ease the cover over the frame almost to the bottom (figure 3). To finish the top raw edge, turn the seam allowance smoothly over the top edge of the frame. On the inside of the frame, sew the fabric to the tape, using small overcast stitches. Be sure that the stitches do not show on the right side.

Finish pulling the cover down gently, but carefully pulling it taut so that it fits over the frame without wrinkles.

To avoid wrinkles completely, as you are easing the cover down over the frame, wipe the shade in a downward motion with a damp cloth.

When the cover completely covers the frame without any wrinkles, finish off the bottom edge as you did the top.

There are various trims you can use if you don't want a plain shade. Braid or embroidered bands are often used on the top and bottom edges. Small tassels may be sewn to the shade. Scatter them evenly all over it.

Look around in good decorator shops and you'll see some wonderful ideas for your shades.

DESIGNER PATTERN

Lachasse of London

The prettiest wrapping of the season is artfully displayed in this charm-packed sheath designed by Lachasse of London. Head and shoulders are framed in the sure flattery of a portrait neckline which crosses low on the throat. A deep back yoke, split into a matching neck-V, arches over the shoulders and arms like a snug little cape. In closing, the smartly wrapped front bodice keeps tab on a wispy waist line with an important pin or a jeweled button. Light gathers ease the skirt's slender lines.

A complement to almost any dress fabric—brocade, etelasse, faille, silk crepe, satin or elegant lightweight wool—this striking style with its '62 sense of shapeliness will highlight the evening landscape wherever it appears. From these corresponding body measurements select the

Demand for Homes Increases As Adoption Requests Drop

Growing Placement Need Found As Number of Children Rises

A growing number of babies about 20,000 notices in search of adoptive couples with few results is creating a demand for the adoption of children up to 10 years old. The number of children born out of wedlock—who make up the greater share of those up for adoption—is an increasing problem nationally.

Two reasons for the reduced demand for adoptions are suggested by Rowland Todd, executive director of United Community Services, Appleton 1. The large generation of war babies is not at child-bearing age while adoptive couples are mainly from the smaller depression generation and 2. medical advances have helped couples who previously could not have their own children.

People are not coming in as rapidly as they used to. We don't know why, said Eugene Cer, executive director of the Appleton office of the Lutheran Welfare Agency. Six or seven years ago, he said, there would be 10 inquiries for each baby up for adoption while now there are only one or two. The agency also has had to turn down inquiries for a state-wide basis for the couples anxious to adopt a child have a much shorter wait list, he said. The society is than in past years a change that starting to consider inquiries many do not realize. We can give them out of state couples almost immediate service. Cer said. The society has distributed very pointed out starting this

New laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-conspicates overnight.

The muscle that contracts the colon is tense, nervous, known to medical men as colonic spasm. It is irregular, sometimes too tight, sometimes too loose. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block the normal bowel habits. A laxative that acts on the colonic muscle, which does not sink into the upper part of the colon, is a non-habit-forming, non-digestive, non-painful, new laxative called CORONADO. It leads laxatives only CORONADO.

home study within a month or two after the client applies. Although this formerly took up to a year. The home study takes two or three months, and placement can be made in six months to a year, sometimes less.

The wait for a child varies, but is from one to two years, Father Klaus said, and may be shorter if a child fits a particular family. Five years ago couples had to wait four or five years, he said.

Miss Hayward said the average wait for couples they serve is eight months from the time the study is completed. The study takes from three weeks to three months.

Relaxed Restrictions

The need for homes has brought a relaxation of restrictions on adoptions. The agencies will place more than two adopted children in one home now, and will consider couples who also have children of their own.

"We believe in families," said Miss Hayward, noting that her office has placed as many as four to six children in one home.

The process of adoption is really simple although decisions involved are not. Once a couple applies a social worker interviews them and visits their home. They fill out inquiry forms and their physician fills out medical forms.

To Get Acquainted

The purpose of the intensive home study is basically to get acquainted with the couple. Cer explained so that the agency can decide if a child would be comfortable in this home and if the home is able to meet the needs of a child.

If the social worker recommends acceptance of the couple's application, the agency works carefully to place the right child in the right home. Most agencies do not close an adoption for one year in order to see that the decision is right for both child and parents.

The agencies have basic preliminary requirements for couples interested in adoption. For example, the Apostolate requires the couple to have been married for three years and have lived in the diocese for one year. The diocese must be under 17 and the father under 40 before placement of the first child, although older couples are considered for older children. The Apostolate accepts only couples where both parties are Catholic since most of the children it places are Catholic. The requirements of the Lutheran Children's Society, affiliated with the Wisconsin and Missouri Synods, are similar.

'Hollow Victory' Achieved by U. S.

BL. DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — It's a hollow even as the President and Premier Khrushchev were exchanging "victory"—if, indeed, it turns out to be a victory at all. It's Nikita Khrushchev who now is established as the man in charge of Cuba. It's he who is dealing for Cuba with this country and with the United Nations, and it is he who will argue whether certain weapons in Cuba are "defensive" or "offensive." It is the Soviet premier who shipped the missiles into Cuba in the first place to threaten the United States. Yet, when he promises to withdraw them, President Kennedy calls this a "statesmanlike decision."

If a would-be murderer points a gun at you and then suddenly decides not to kill you, does he immediately become a "statesman?"

So far as the Monroe Doctrine and the "traditions of this hemisphere" are concerned, however, the Soviet premier's promise is a "victory" for the United States. The United States government, moreover, has sacrificed an opportunity to liberate the Cuban people. The American quarantine or blockade of Cuban ports is to be dispensed with on the assurances of Mr. Khrushchev that his "officers" and "instructors," as he describes them, will change the missile bases so they will no longer be "offensive." A United Nations inspection team, doubtless will take plenty of time to make sure it is distinguishing between the offensive and defensive character of any military project already set up in Cuba by the Soviets.

For the plain fact is that Mr. Khrushchev has not agreed to get out of Cuba. The United States, on the other hand, has backed away from the Monroe Doctrine and has not insisted that all the Soviet arms be removed from Cuba. The latest letter from the Soviet premier implied that "defensive" arms supplied by the Soviets would remain in Cuba. Mr. Khrushchev wrote:

"I regard with respect and trust your statement put forward in your message of October 27, 1962, that no attack will be made on Cuba, that no invasion will take place, not only by the U.S.A. but also by other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as your message pointed out. In view of this, the motives which prompted us to give aid of this nature to Cuba are no longer applicable."

"Practical Steps"

"If we take practical steps, and announce the dismantling and evacuation of the said instruments from Cuba, then, in doing that, we wish at the same time to assure the Cuban peoples that we are not divesting ourselves of the responsibility of granting help to the Cuban people."

President Kennedy in his message of Saturday, Oct. 27—of which Mr. Khrushchev took note in his reply—had offered this deal to the Soviet premier:

"(1) You would agree to remove these weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision; and undertake, with suitable safeguards, to halt the further introduction of such weapons systems into Cuba.

"(2) We, on our part, would agree—upon the establishment of adequate arrangements through the United Nations, to insure the carrying out and continuation of these commitments—(A) to remove promptly the quarantine measures now in effect and (B) to give assurances against all invasion of Cuba. I am confident that other nations of the Western Hemisphere would be prepared to do likewise."

Who Has Gained?

Who has come out with a net again? The United States, in effect, has recognized the Soviet right to run Cuba and is not to challenge it by invading Cuba, as required by an application of the Monroe Doctrine and as other American presidents in the past have interpreted it.

So Khrushchev stays in Cuba. He says in one of his two poles that he will defend Cuba and will interpret the actions of the United States from time to time in his own way.

Who built up the crisis? Not the United States, but the Soviet Union. Who took control of Cuba within the last year? Not the United States, but the Soviet Union. What has each side given up? The United States has given up the right to run Cuba and is not to challenge it by invading Cuba, as required by an application of the Monroe Doctrine and as other American presidents in the past have interpreted it.

The United States has given up the right to run Cuba and is not to challenge it by invading Cuba, as required by an application of the Monroe Doctrine and as other American presidents in the past have interpreted it.

So Khrushchev stays in Cuba. He says in one of his two poles that he will defend Cuba and will interpret the actions of the United States from time to time in his own way.

Milwaukee Man Asks Continuance In Hotel Charge

A Milwaukee man who is charged with leaving the Conway Hotel in Appleton without paying a $60.95 bill in July appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 where he asked for a 24-hour continuance to contact an attorney.

Robert Harrington, 39, was held overnight in the Outagamie County jail in lieu of payment of a $200 bond. He will appear later today to enter a plea to the charge. He was arrested by Appleton police.

Judge Grants Appleton Couple Separation

James H. Balliet, 66, 508 S. Memorial Drive, and Edna F. Balliet, 64, 603 S. Walnut St., were legally separated in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 Thursday. Mrs. Balliet charged cruel and inhuman treatment and was granted the separation. The couple was married Sept. 25, 1920 and separated June 15, 1962.

United States withdraws its fleet and abandons any thought at present of establishing by force the right of its citizens or those of other countries to regain their properties confiscated by Castro. The Soviet Union, with its "officers" and "instructors," keeps its foothold in Cuba where, at any moment, "defensive" airplanes can be launched with nuclear bombs that could be hidden inside the island. How can the United States be absolutely sure that what the Soviets call "defensive" supplies will not be suddenly used for "offensive" purposes?

What "Victory"?

So it's hard to tell as yet who has achieved a "victory" in the controversy over Cuba, which might have been averted if the invasion by the Cuban exiles had been given air cover by the administration here in April 1961.

Now the Cuban exiles are checkmated. They will not only be opposed by the Castro regime—which continues to be aided by the Soviets—but by the United States, which has virtually pledged itself to see to it that all the countries of this hemisphere will refrain from any steps involving "invasion." This is a broad enough pledge to stifle the efforts of any Cuban exiles to launch an invasion from any neighboring countries. In fact, Mr. Khrushchev in his note of last Friday made clear that the pledge of "no invasion" means to him any operations "both from the territory of the United States and from the territory of other neighboring states of Cuba." It's a sad hour for the people of Cuba. (Copyright, 1962)

Refer Kaukauna Police Pay Hike To City Council

Fire, Police Commission Says Wage Boosts Not Its Business

KAUKAUNA — The fire and police commission Monday declined to act on a request by police and firemen for a 10 per cent increase in wages for 1963 and longevity pay amounting to $10 per month for each five years service up to 25 years.

Commission members said their duties did not involve recommending pay increases, thus the request would have to be studied by the finance committee and common council.

Members voted to recommend to the council an increase in salary from $60 to $70 per year for the fire inspector. The commission created the post separate from the department and sets policy on it. The inspector is to make quarterly inspections of all business places, on days when he is not working at the fire department and is to make regular reports to the commission on findings. The fire department had requested the establishment of the post of full time fire inspector.

Approval was given to installation of 2-way radio systems in fire emergency vehicles and the fire station. Estimated cost was set at $2,500. Council members earlier had indicated their approval of such a plan to the commission.

The finance committee set up sufficient money in the 1963 budget to cover cost of wages for two additional firemen, should it be found necessary to add two men. Fire Chief William Haupt had requested four men.

Members indicated setting up money in the budget did not necessarily mean additional firemen would be hired as they plan the department and sets policy on it. The inspector is to make quarterly inspections of all business places, on days when he is not working at the fire department and is to make regular reports to the commission on findings. The fire department had requested the establishment of the post of full time fire inspector.

Jury Begins Hearing LaRue Trial Testimony

Charge Neenah Man With Negligence In Highway Death

A Circuit Court jury of 10 men and two women began hearing testimony today in the negligent homicide trial of LaRue LaRue, 23, route 1, Neenah.

LaRue's car struck the small foreign car driven by Outagamie County Home Agent Miss Jeanette Fenske, 23, of Appleton Dec. 16. Miss Fenske was fatally injured and died later at an Appleton hospital.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, after reviewing testimony taken in an inquest into the death, brought the charge in January.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer told the jury in his opening statement he intended to present witnesses who would show that the LaRue car swerved into Miss Fenske's lane of traffic, swerved back and hit Miss Fenske's car head on in its own lane of traffic. Miss Fenske, according to the district attorney, had swerved into the opposite lane to avoid hitting LaRue.

Fell Asleep

Schaefer said testimony is expected to show that LaRue had fallen asleep while he drove his car on U.S. 10 and had awakened to see his car approaching Miss Fenske's car in the Fenske lane of traffic.

Testimony is expected to show also that LaRue did not sleep the night before the accident but had worked throughout the night and had gone fishing with two companions on the morning of the accident. Schaefer said testimony would show that LaRue had had several drinks before the accident.

In a statement to the jury on behalf of the defendant, Dennis Herring, an Appleton attorney, said the defense will rely upon "the testimony of the only witnesses to the entire accident, LaRue and Fenske."

Herring said that as LaRue and his two companions drove from Waupaca toward Appleton on the day of the accident, the two companions fell asleep and were asleep when the accident occurred.

Nodded Sleepily

Herring said the defense would show that LaRue nodded sleepily seconds before the accident and swerved back into his lane of traffic where the accident occurred.

A photographer, George Esler, Little Chute, and an Outagamie County Traffic policeman, Charles Staidl, presented the state's first testimony.

Esler was called to the scene to take pictures of the accident, he said. Staidl said he found the small compact car with Miss Fenske still inside and still alive tipped on its right side about 20 feet from the 1956 model station wagon driven by LaRue. He said the impact damaged the left front and left side of Miss Fenske's car.

Judge Raymond P. Dohr, sitting for Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell, will hear further testimony after a noon recess today.

Vandals Take Posts From Paper Mill Dam

Vandals have taken some wooden posts from a needle dam which controls the flow of water into the Riverside Paper Mill, 900 S. Lawrence St. Cost of repairing the damage was estimated at $100.

Police said five 12 foot posts were broken off and two other posts were pulled out and are missing. Police believe they were thrown into the Fox River.

Calumet Welfare Workers Given Pay Hikes by Board

Long Debate Precedes Decision By County to Accept Committee Recommendations for Salary Hike

CHILTON — The salary committee's "status quo" recommendation triggered a lively debate at the Calumet County board's opening session Monday when Welfare Board Chairman Joseph P. Depies fought for raises for welfare department employees.

Depies claimed the salaries of department workers are established by a state schedule and that workers should be granted pay increases despite committee recommendation which called for almost no pay hikes to regular county employees and only moderate adjustments.

Denial of pay increases this year is considered a step toward accomplishing the county board's objective of having salary negotiations only on alternate years when salaries of elected officials are set. To grant welfare department raises, supervisors argued, would open the door for wholesale negotiations.

Boost Sought

Depies asked that the director's salary be boosted from $510 to $530 monthly. A hike from $420 to $435 monthly was sought for the senior caseworker and a similar $15 boost from $405 to $420 was asked for the junior caseworker. A clerk's salary was to have been hiked from $315 to $325. These were denied.

The salary committee recommendation finally was adopted. It called for increases established either by necessity or by agreement made during negotiations in 1961 rising out of increased work loads.

Included was a $300 minimum and $345 monthly maximum for the registered nurse at Calumet Homestead compared with $265 for the former salary was listed as the reason.

A new post, practical nurse at the Homestead, has been created and a $250 minimum and $300 maximum monthly salary was set for it.

The family court commission's salary was boosted from $75 to $100 monthly and the district oral police vaccine in the schools attorney will receive $415 monthly until the "uncertainty" of the compared with $390 currently vaccine is dispelled.

The latter two were approved last year because of an increasing work responsibility for the two attorneys.

Highway Department workers in state funds were used.

Merit Raises Lost In Finance Shuffle

Await Word From Personnel Unit On Percentage Hike in Appleton

Several departmental budgets requests for a $3,000 exhaust fan for the old No. 1 fire station, and $18,000 for a new rescue unit. Both were described as "musis" by Chief Roland Kuehn.

Should the work week be cut from the present 70 hours to 63 hours, the department will need six additional men. A figure of $13,780 to cover this was put in the budget.

The library board submitted a total budget of $172,370 which included $41,000 for a bookmobile. The board also requested three new employees. The committee held up action pending further study of the budget.

The street lighting budget of $74,860 also was held for further study by the committee after being informed there would be a request later in the week for more money to install new lights on a section of Wisconsin Avenue.

Several departmental budget requests were approved by the committee with the merit raises deleted.

Receiving committee approval was the Vocational School budget. The total budget for 1963 is $288,551 of which the city is being called on to appropriate $145,051. The request is about $3,000 less than requested for 1962.

The finance committee's major cut was about $25,000 from the police department budget and Chief Earl Wolff agreed to it. The chief is asking permission to hire eight new men and the general feeling was they would not be on the job until April 1. Their salaries had been budgeted for the entire year, so a savings of three months was attained. The proposed merit increases were also eliminated for the time being.

Chief Wolff's requests for additional equipment for the department were approved for the most part. The committee is taking under advisement the purchase of a polygraph (the detector machine) and two walkie-talkie radios.

It was disclosed that the department hopes to go on a 40-hour week in 1963 as already authorized by the common council. At present policemen work a 42 1/2 hour week.

"Musis" Held Up The committee cut more than $20,000 from the fire department John Hermus, Albert Vander Wielen and Francis Vander Wielen.

Attorney General Requests Death Investigation Report

District Attorney Critical of Sheriff's Handling of Case

FOND DU LAC — The state attorney general's office has requested a complete report on late developments in the LeRoy Sommers death case. Dist. Atty. Donald Marcell said here early this afternoon.

At the same time, Marcell issued a statement to reporters criticizing Sheriff Leo Trevelyan for refusing to conduct an investigation.

George B. Schwahn, an assistant attorney general, telephoned Marcell from Madison and requested "a full report on the case."

The latest development in the Sommers case is that an informant says he knows who killed Sommers. Marcell wants the sheriff to question both the informant and the so-called suspect to determine their whereabouts when the cheese company executive was found dead.

Marcell said: "It appears the sheriff is taking this matter lightly, when I think it should be investigated." The sheriff took this case lightly from the beginning and still continues to do so.

Criticizes Investigation Referring to the sheriff's department handling of the death when originally discovered, Marcell declared "The hose in the garage at Sommers' home and lost until such time that somebody thought that a murder had occurred."

"Also, after suspicion of murder, the sheriff returned to the scene of the death of Mill Pond Road and drew a square on the road and then photographed the square to indicate where the car had been."

"These two incidents alone break the chain of evidence and consequently would make it difficult for them to be used as evidence."

Marcell contended that the sheriff's department really didn't start investigating Sommers' death "until somebody yelled murder. Then they went out and started working," Marcell said.

The district attorney said he was suspicious of both the informant (the man formerly worked at Sommers' cheese factory) and also the man he informed on.

"The sheriff is the investigating officer and I think he should get out and find out where these two men were that night."

Has Recording Marcell has the tape recording of a conversation the former had with Sommers' widow. He played a portion of it for a Post-Crescent reporter.

"I know who killed my husband," a man's voice said on the recording.

"Are you sure about this," Mrs. Sommers asked.

The man mumbled a few words and said "I'm afraid . . . I've got a family and my wife is going to have a baby."

Marcell said he made his public statement Monday after a lapse of more than a week during which time he thought the sheriff would reopen the investigation.

"The sheriff knew about this new evidence long before yesterday but he dismissed it without checking further," Marcell said.

"My duty is not to assume anything, and that is why everything should be checked out," Marcell added.

Marcell said he thought the youth's father said the boy received a nose bleed.

Council Rejects Bids On $150,000 Garage

MENASHA — Three major business items were transacted at Monday night's special meeting of the Menasha Council: the last equipment bid for the planned $2.4 million addition to the Menasha steam generating plant was accepted, all bids received on Oct. 22 for construction of a city garage were rejected, and McMahon Engineering Company of Menasha was designated as official architect-engineer-supervisor for the city garage construction project. The equipment bid accepted for the Menasha steam generating plant was the Pacific Pumps, Inc. bid of $39,790 to supply three boiler feed pumps, each with 7,500 - pounds - per hour capacity. Acceptance of the pumps bid brought to $1,062,548 the total value of equipment bids approved by the Council in conjunction with the steam plant addition project. At a Council session on Oct. 17, seven equipment bids totaling $1,022,758 were approved. Bids for the new city garage were rejected Monday night by aldermen upon the recommendation of R. J. Haas, acting city engineer. Noted Haas in his written suggestion: "It is recommended that the above listed bids be rejected due to price differential in base bid, to lack of more bids, and to uncertainty as to what the bid price includes." Only two bids were received from general contractors: a $118,253 bid from Distributors, Inc., Green Bay, and $107,119 from William Warner, Construction Co., Inc., Oshkosh. The proposed 129 by 240-foot building is intended to house all city vehicles, including park trucks and school buses, and supplies in a managed storeroom. Seek Detailed Plans Before new bids are sought for the city garage project, aldermen deemed it advisable to have detailed preliminary specifications and plans drawn up to aid interested bidders in submitting their estimates. Approved as architect-engineer-supervisor for the total garage project was McMahon Engineering Co. The firm will also provide the necessary preliminary aid. Fee set was 5 per cent of the total contract cost of the garage. In other action, the Council approved a motion to allow McMahon & Metz Insurance Associates, Inc., the city's insurance consultant, to arrange for the insurance reappraisal of all permanent city buildings. The action was taken as a preliminary step for each two-year period. "The to obtain competitive insurance bids on the city's buildings, exclusive of schools. Civil Defense Plan Drawn For Oshkosh OSHKOSH — A proposed "operational survival" civil defense plan has been drawn up for the city of Oshkosh by City Manager Ray Harbaugh and other city department heads. If adopted by the common council, this would be Oshkosh's first comprehensive civil defense plan. Under the proposed setup Harbaugh will be city civil defense director.

Seek to Up Minimum Age To Buy Beer

MENASHA — A proposal to allow drafting of a city ordinance which would raise from 18 to 21 the minimum age at which persons could buy beer in the City of Menasha, was approved at Monday night's meeting of the City Council's ordinances and resolutions committee. The ordinance, to be drafted jointly by City Atty. Richard J. Steffens and Chief of Police Lester D. Clark, is expected to be ready for consideration by the Council during a committee of the whole session Monday night. Also approved by the ordinance committee last night was a proposal for a city ordinance raising bicycle license fees from 50 cents to $1 for each two-year period. "The to obtain competitive insurance bids on the city's buildings, exclusive of schools. Civil Defense Plan Drawn For Oshkosh OSHKOSH — A proposed "operational survival" civil defense plan has been drawn up for the city of Oshkosh by City Manager Ray Harbaugh and other city department heads. ## Mrs. Phillip Kuehn To Be Coffee Hour Guest MENASHA — A coffee hour for Mrs. Phillip Kuehn, wife of the GOP gubernatorial candidate, will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Thursday at the Menasha Elks Club. The reception is sponsored by the Neenah Republican Club women.

Menasha Fails to Support Site Bid

Council Deadlocks With 5-5 Vote Over Offer of Land for Armory

MENASHA — Efforts to obtain additional, adjoining eight acres of City of Menasha support for construction of a National Guard Armory were stalled Monday night as aldermen "straw-voted" to a 5 to 5 deadlock on whether or not to offer a site. The show of hands came immediately before convening of a special council session and after Ralph Risley, Neenah - Menasha Chamber of Commerce representative, addressed aldermen on the merits of having such a facility constructed in Menasha. Said Risley in support of armory construction in Menasha: "The Federal government has already appropriated $300,000 towards construction of such a facility, with the state government to contribute $100,000. What would be needed in addition to the $400,000 Federal-state grant would be a 20-acre site donated or all that's what we (the city) by the municipality in which the armory is constructed. Site Suggested "It is my understanding," Risley continued, "that the city now has a 12-acre site (former city dumping grounds) that could conceivably be utilized for this purpose. As to the obtaining of the needed additional eight acres, Risley emphasized, "that need be of no cost to the City of Menasha inasmuch as private financial backing could be obtained. The total purchase price for an industrial development." To which Ald. Edward S. Stiniski added: "I don't see how we can justly use for another purpose, in this case the armory, land which was originally bought for industrial development purposes. It seems to me, be concluded, "that it would be, in a sense, misusing of the municipal property or funds."

Willie Mays Checks Into Hospital Today

Cepeda Will Have Eye Examined For Cataract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays was scheduled to check into a hospital today and Orlando Cepeda has an appointment with an eye doctor as the two right-handed San Francisco Giants try to unravel the nature of physical ailments each claims plagued him during the 1962 season.

The two represent $135,000 worth of talent, with Mays reportedly the highest paid player in baseball, bringing down $90,000 in salary.

Willie, the 1950 "say hey" rookie who ever since has roamed center field for the Giants both here and in New York, said from midsummer on, "I'm tired. Awfully tired."

He collapsed in the dugout in Cincinnati's Crosley Field on Sept. 12 and was unconscious for several minutes. His doctor, Harold Rosenberg, said the results would be known about Friday or Saturday.

Producers Have Cepeda, a 25-year-old, brash Puerto Rican first baseman with a ready smile, says a doctor has told him he has a cataract on his right eye, a condition that produces a haze over the lens. He reiterated Monday night his earlier statement that the condition came to light when he took a driver's test.

"Then the doctor told me I have a cataract. I don't know. I feel okay. My right eye is kind of fuzzy. But I can see, like when I close my left eye, which is fine."

Between them, Mays and Cepeda drove in 235 runs during the 1962 National League season and hit 84 home runs. Mays led the majors in homers with 49. He had 141 runs batted in. Last year Cepeda led his league in homers with 46 and RBI with 142.

In 1962, over the first 162-game National League schedule, plus a three-game pennant playoff with Los Angeles, Mays hit .304 and Cepeda .306.

Neither did well in the World Series, eventually lost by the Giants to the New York Yankees. Willie started fast, hitting safely three times in the first game but didn't live up to his slugging reputation thereafter, though performing well in the field.

Paltzer Bowls 607 in Freedom

Bill Paltzer captured individual bowling honors in the National League at Ludwig Lanes, Freedom, by slapping a 229 game and a 617 series.

The only other honor count was Bob Conrad's 559.

Kahler's Insurance leads the team race with a 17-4 record.

sultant on production and development of Cardinal players. He said, "This club can't be traded into a pennant. There aren't that many players around for trade. The players have got to be developed."

It was Rickey who realized many years ago that the Cardinals could not compete with richer teams for purchase of players. So he set up the Cardinal farm team system. Even the 1946 champions, the last Cardinal pennant winner, was composed mainly of players the baseball genius developed.

He said in a press conference Monday, "I'm anxious for the team to win a pennant and 1965 would seem to be a rational objective for one."

Rickey worked as field manager, business manager and vice president of the Cardinals from 1917 to 1942.

Farm System Besides inventing the farm system he is noted as the man who brought Negroes into baseball by getting Jackie Robinson on the Dodgers.

Since joining the Cardinals he has talked on a number of his opinions of the modern game. He doesn't like large bonuses to young players and he thinks there is still room for a third major league.

"If the baseball owners were to take just 90 days to serve as general manager, divorce themselves from all other interests and concentrate on the game, the first thing they would do would be to eliminate the bonus."

"Paying of $50,000 or $100,000 to a 17-year-old boy is ridiculous. It is bad for the boy, it gives him a bad sense of values. It is bad for the ball club. It is bad for morale. It has nothing to recommend it."

On the addition of a new league, he said, "There may still be a third league. There is universal unhappiness with a 10-club league. It would be worse for a 12-club league. Three leagues would truly nationalize the game—and double the World Series revenue."

In Rickey's 26 years with the Cardinals, he helped develop players who won nine pennants and six world championships between 1926 and 1946. In Brooklyn, his teams won two pennants in eight years.

He then moved to Pittsburgh, where once again he supplied the players who gave the Pirates their first championship team in 35 years, the 1960 season.

man-for-man, although Mitchell caught five passes for 158 yards and scored two touchdowns. Barnes held him in check most of the time.

Barnes listened to the compliments at one of the tables. When Mitchell saw him, he pointed and said with fake solemnity:

"Each, next time I'll get you." When a club member asked if Norm Snead, Washington quarterback, was the best passer he ever played with, Mitchell said, "Yes, I would have to say so. I respect Milt Plum (formerly at Cleveland) but I like Snead better."

Another member wanted to know if Mitchell ever ran a foot race with Jimmy Brown of the Browns.

"We ran a lot of races," said Mitchell. "Jimmy is one of the fastest men in the league at 30 or 40 yards. I can't beat him in 40 yards. He gets off to a tremendous start."

Another diner asked if Mitchell would want big money next year. He answered like this:

"I don't want to have them owners' think I'm so intelligent. I know there are a lot of people in the stands. Scissors every week. And that Mr. Marshall owner George Preston Marshall is walking around with big fat checks in his pocket. I would imagine, well, being the dumb individual I am, I imagine, I will be the highest paid player in pro football next year."

Neither did well in the World Series, eventually lost by the Giants to the New York Yankees. Willie started fast, hitting safely three times in the first game but didn't live up to his slugging reputation thereafter, though performing well in the field.

4 Touchdowns in 4 Games

Wilson Says He's Not Worried About Lions' Recent Weak Attack

BY JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—Four touchdowns in four games—hardly a menacing offense for a team that believes it can beat them all in the National Football League.

Yet that's been the touchdown production in the last four weeks by the Detroit Lions. But the meager yield isn't troubling Coach George Wilson—or so he says.

The Lions' attack of late has been a popgun compared to the atomic power unleashed in the first part of the season. Detroit scored six touchdowns in each of its first two games and three in its third. In the four games since, the Lions have scored two touchdowns only once—in the 17-14 loss at New York.

What's happened to the Lions' offense?

"Defense Takes Over" "Nothing," said Wilson Monday in reviewing the Lions' 11-3 victory without a touchdown Sunday over Chicago. "It's just that when you play teams like Green Bay, Chicago and New York he defense takes over."

"When you plan against defenses like they have and when the other team has to go against a defense like ours, you're bound to see low-scoring games."

The Lions' defense—key to their hopes of overhauling the Green Bay Packers—also has allowed but four touchdowns in the last four games.

"We moved the ball well Sunday," said Wilson. "Don't forget about that pass interception the Bears made on the goal line early in the game. If we'd gone in there, it could have changed the whole thing and we could have scored more later. And there were those two fumbles that stopped us."

"Our offense is the same it's been all year."

Wilson feels the 9-7 loss at Green Bay three weeks ago had an after effect on the Lions. That was the game Detroit lost in the final minute and dropped it out of a tie with the Packers for the Western Division lead.

"We had a natural letdown after that," said Wilson. "It took a while to get us back up. We didn't score much the next week when we beat Los Angeles and we weren't up at New York."

"I think we'll be okay now." The Lions return to practice today. They leave Thursday for Los Angeles and their annual two-game trek to the West Coast.

Monday's Results:

Neenah 34, Wilson 6.

Kaukauna 21, Roosevelt 4.

Kimberly 22, Menasha 20.

Neenah wrapped up its second straight Fox Valley Freshman League championship Monday afternoon by walloping Wilson Junior High School, 34-6. The victory gave the Junior Rockets a clean sweep of all six games on their 1962 schedule.

Kaukauna grabbed off second place with a 21-6 trouncing of Roosevelt, and Kimberly snagged third position with a 33-20 victory over Menasha.

Phil Lehl put the Junior Rockets ahead in the first quarter and Bruce Rasmussen, and Mike Miliken penetrated the Wilson goal in the second stanza. Rick Thiel and Rasmussen added extra points on plunges for a 20-0 half-time advantage.

Passes To Bartman

Gary Vivoda passed to Jim Bartman for Wilson's lone touchdown in the third period. Neenah came back with 50 and 12-yard scoring runs by Ken Peterson and Miliken, respectively. Rasmussen and Jim Schuelke followed with extra points.

Bob Promer raced 32 yards to paydirt in the first period for Kaukauna. He plunged over for the extra point to give the Junior Ghosts a 7-0 lead which held up into the third period when Kaukauna tallied again.

Paul Esler scored from 10 yards out and Promer plunged for the extra point. Dave O'Brien hit Mark Nussbaum on a 30-yard TD pass, for the final Kaukauna marker. Dennis DeBruin added the point.

Roosevelt scored its TD when Steve Winters passed 25 yards to Scott Behrent.

Kimberly captured its fourth straight game after two early season losses as Leo Anthony ran for all five touchdowns with distances of 38, 20, 5, 90 and 10 yards.

Don Stoffen snagged two TD passes for Menasha and Paul Blohm caught another. Bob Sura did the throwing for the Junior Jays. Stoffen tallied both extra points on pass receptions.

Athletic Director Declares Kuharich Is Doing Good Job

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame's football miseries can't be blamed on the coaching or the material, insists the university's veteran athletic director. The culprit is the schedule.

"We have a good squad, and we feel Joe Kuharich (the head coach) is doing a good job with them," Ed (Moose) Krause said during a hit-and-run visit here in Tom Myers. It's also a fine Monday. "It's just unfortunate that we have lost to four of the best teams in the country."

"I don't think the great teams we had back in the late 1940s could have waded through this kind of opposition."

The famed Fighting Irish are in the throes of one of their worst seasons in years. After beating Oklahoma 13-7 in the opening game, they were trounced consecutively by Purdue 24-6, Wisconsin 17-8, Michigan State 31-7 and Northwestern 35-6.

'Solid Choice'

"Northwestern is the solid choice as the best college team in the country," Krause said. "and Michigan State, Purdue and Wisconsin are not far behind."

Yankees Send Bob Turley To Los Angeles

Causes Speculation That Belinsky Will be Shipped to Yankees

BY MIKE RATHET
NEW YORK AP — Have the world champion New York Yankees entered the Bob Belinsky sweepstakes by shipping a certain pitcher, Bob Turley, to the Los Angeles Angels?

That was the first question that popped in mind in Los Angeles circles Monday afternoon when the Yankees admitted to the fact that they had shipped the 24-year-old right-hander to the Los Angeles Angels in a conditional trade.

Yankees General Manager R. H. Kesselring said the Yankees had shipped Turley to the Angels in exchange for a pitcher named Belinsky.

Belinsky, 23, is a right-hander who has pitched for the Yankees since 1958. He has a record of 10-10 with a 2.40 ERA.

Belinsky was shipped to the Yankees in exchange for a pitcher named Belinsky.

Young Business Man: State Auto Sales Up 14 Per Cent

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Automobile sales have been consistently better this year than in 1961, the Wisconsin Automotive Trades Association reported today on the basis of dealer experience for the first three quarters.

The Association said Wisconsin new car sales for the first nine months amounted to 103,871, or an increase of 14 per cent over the previous year. September and October showed a continuation of the higher sales trend, although with a slight reduction in the percentage of gain it was said.

Co-op Members Act Today on Resolutions

Pure Milk Products Annual Meeting Is In Fond du Lac

FOND DU LAC — The Pure Milk Products Cooperative opened its 33rd annual convention here today. Main action facing the meeting is debate and vote on resolutions approved Monday by a joint meeting of the board of directors and the resolutions-by-laws committee.

Monday afternoon the group approved additional resolutions submitted by local units of the co-op. Here are the major items to be considered by the convention, with the group's recommendations:

Opposed the Committee on Economic Development (CED) plan which proposes to eliminate two million farmers and farm workers.

Approved setting aside money to help finance research for new uses for dairy products.

Agreed to pay directors $5 a meeting, whether day or night.

More Promotion
Backed resolutions for more dairy advertising and promotion. Agreed to publicize the difference on the price spread, between what the farmer receives for his milk and what the consumer pays.

Urged members to feed milk to calves, rather than using cereal-type milk replacers.

Urged governmental units to expand purchases of dairy products for the needy, increase use in school lunch programs and put more on the menu of penal institutions.

Backed legislation to end deceptive packaging. Asked that the U.S. imports of dairy products from countries having inferior sanitation laws.

Urged more milk for U. S. Armed Forces overseas.

Rejected Resolutions
The group turned down resolutions to:

Urge payment for milk on basis of solids, rather than on the present butterfat content.

Establish dating laws on bottled milk.

Organize locals on geographical, rather than on the basis of where milk is sold.

Change annual meeting from fall to winter.

Advertise "how poor" dairy "substitutes" are.

Require milking experience for sanitation inspectors.

Work for contracts for bulk tank premium payments.

Pay disaster benefits when blizzards prevent delivery of milk.

Investigate the school lunch program to determine if poor or old milk was being sold.

Approved resolutions must also be approved at the convention floor today. Tabled resolutions may be brought up for action on the floor.

Workshop Slated On Hydraulics For Next Spring

A hydraulics workshop will be offered next spring by vocational schools in the Fox Cities and lake-shore area.

The instructor will be Frank L. Macklin of Flint, Mich., a consultant on fluid power and former head of engineering laboratories and shops with General Motors Institute.

The workshop is planned for persons who would make an engineering application of the material, as in manufacturing, and for those involved in the installation, maintenance and repair of hydraulic units or components.

Five sections of the 10-week course will be offered by the vocational schools. These will include two sections in the Fox Cities and one each in Manitowish, Two Rivers, Green Bay and Sheboygan.

Two Men Fined for Fighting at Home

KAUKAUNA — Two men were fined on disorderly conduct charges as a result of a fight in a private home. They were arraigned before Oscar T. Johns, municipal justice of the peace, Friday.

Paul DeKaster, 25, 120 McKinley St., Kaukauna, paid $25 and costs on a disorderly charge for fighting and was fined an additional $25 on a second disorderly charge for becoming abusive in the mother of his opponent, Elwood Booher, 25, 1133 Harrison St. Booher was fined $15 and costs.

Works Board, Union To Discuss Contract

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works will meet at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday to discuss the union contract with members of the city employees union.

The union has requested a 10-cent per hour pay hike and a 4-week vacation with pay after 20 years service besides other fringe benefits. The public works board voted to offer a 5-cent per hour pay increase and retaining the existing vacation period.

Seymour Man Fined Following Rifle Accident

A 21-year-old Seymour man whose rifle discharged while he was riding a tractor Sept. 18, wounding him, was fined $35 and costs Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 for carrying an uncased gun on a tractor.

Richard Schmidt Jr., pleaded innocent of the charge Friday but returned to court Monday to change his plea to guilty.

The man was working in a field near his home when the accident occurred. His rifle struck a piece of machinery, discharged and sent pellets into his side and arm. He was hospitalized in Green Bay for three weeks.

Envelope Mystery Cleared

An apologetic fund drive committee woman who got her directions mixed last week, called Appleton police Monday to clear up the mystery of a missing fund envelope.

Police had received a complaint last Thursday that an envelope, which is passed from house to house on N. Rankin St. was missing. The envelope contained an estimated $35 in donations.

A donor told police she had placed her donation in the envelope and was going to pass it to her neighbor. She put the envelope on the television set near the doorway and left the house. When she returned, the envelope was missing.

A member of the collection committee, after reading of the loss in the paper, told Appleton police she had been called to pick up a completed envelope collection on S. Rankin Street. She went instead to N. Rankin Street, and found the address where the completed collection was supposed to be and saw the envelope on the television set.

No one answered the collector's knock, the door was unlocked, so she entered the house and took the envelope.

Supreme Court Absolves Crew For Auto Wreck

MADISON (AP) — The State Supreme Court today overturned a lower court decision that held a Marinette County highway crew responsible for an auto mishap in Wausaukee.

Sam Cable of Alhambra contended he lost control of his car and struck a ditch Sept. 21, 1959, because loose dirt left on County Trunk C slicked the roadway's blacktop surface.

The accident occurred at night and no warning flares or caution signs marked the stretch of road way.

Circuit Court Judge Arvid Murphy ruled in favor of Cable in a directed verdict issued Nov. 14, 1961, when an appeal was denied. The county petitioned the State Supreme Court.

In the high court's decision Chief Justice Timothy Brown reversed Murphy's verdict and ordered a new trial.

Attentioning himself to the retrial, Brown said: "It is proper for the court to instruct the jury to consider whether the condition of the highway was such that an injury to an ordinarily prudent traveler thereon would be the natural and probable result, and ought reasonably to have been foreseen and anticipated by reasonably prudent officers in discharge of their duty."

Two Released After Treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital

Minor accidents on Appleton city streets Monday night and early Tuesday morning sent five persons to two hospitals with injuries.

Three persons received injuries and were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital about 8:30 p.m. Monday in a three-car collision in the 100 block of E. Lawrence Street.

A car driven by Eugene G. Funk, 43, 729 E. Lincoln St., pulled from a parking lot onto E. Lawrence Street and collided with a car driven by Albert Giles, 41, 613 S. Lee St., who was going east on E. Lawrence Street.

Hit Parked Car
Giles' car hit an empty parked car owned by Frederick Daniel, 21, 123 N. James St., Kimberly. Giles received a leg injury. His two passengers, Walter Giles, 35, route 2, Menasha, and Edward Walker, 22, 633 Milwaukee St., Menasha, received leg injuries. The three were taken by Larry's Ambulance Service to Appleton Memorial Hospital where they are being treated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schreiber, 1350 W. Commercial St., were treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after minor injuries they received when the car they were in struck a parked car on E. Washington Street about 12:35 a.m. today.

The parked car is owned by Elmer Retzlaff, 58, 917 Kansas St., Oshkosh.

Schreiber told police he was turning off N. Union Street and made a wide arc and hit the unoccupied parked car as he turned. Schreiber was summoned to appear in traffic court on a charge of inattentive driving.

Clarification Requested on Budget Report

NEW LONDON — Mrs. Marion Markman, school board member, Monday night stated she wishes a ruling on budget practices of the school system.

Mrs. Markman told school board attorney Sigurd Krostue she wants him present to rule on practices. Krostue said he would like a list of her questions ahead of the Nov. 13 meeting so he could study them.

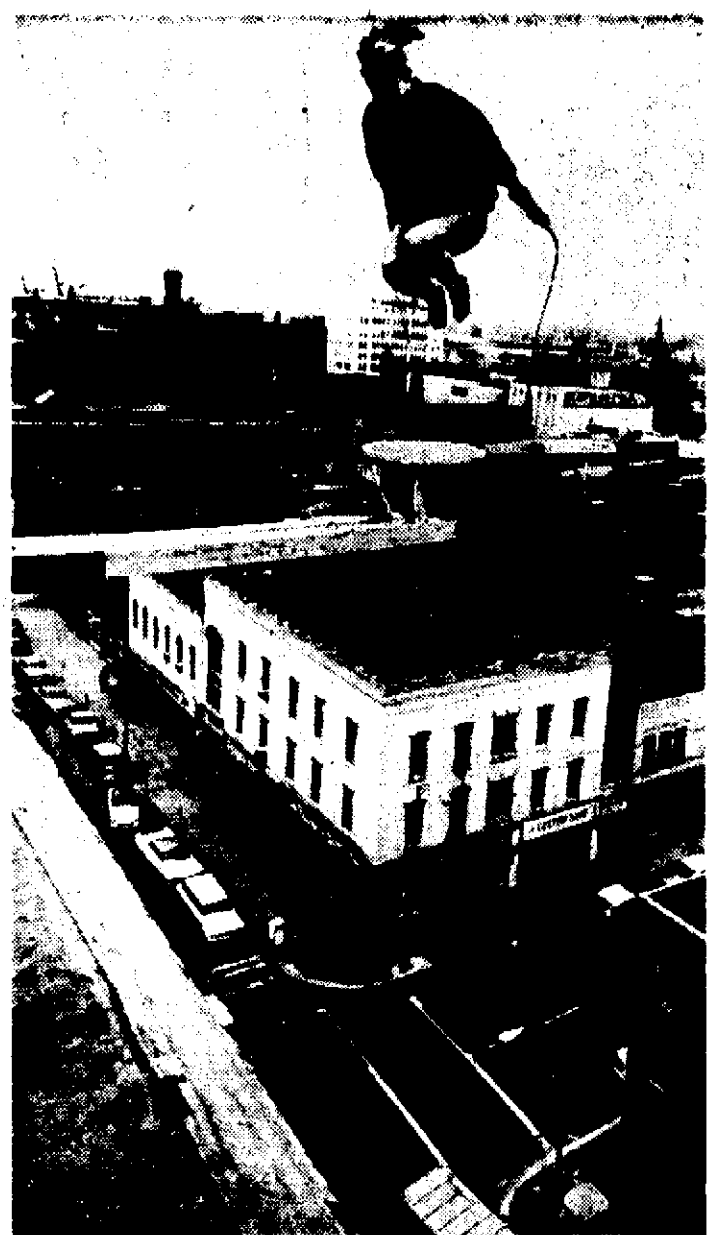

A report in another publication said Mrs. Markman, at the Oct. 9 board meeting, had asked that the board take up budget policies. She said her statements may have been misinterpreted.

Mrs. Markman seeks information on whether budget figures can be changed or altered in a report. Mrs. Markman said she feels certain items in a three-month report are incomplete and she wishes to know why.

Balancing Act Above Hotel Chills Viewers

BY JACK RUDOLPH

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Even if it hadn't been frigid on the roof of the Hotel Northland, an intrepid, father-daughter aerial act would have sent cold chills down the spines of a gathering of press, radio and television reporters and photographers Monday morning.

Betty and Benny Fox, a top aerial balancing act for the Dobritch International Circus, which shows at the Arena this weekend, put on their specialty as a publicity promotion. About the only people in the crowd atop the hotel who weren't scared stiff were the two performers.

Balancing Feats

Out on the end of a narrow plank, with only an 18-inch disk — about the size of an automobile steering wheel — for a platform, the Foxes indulged in balancing feats, jumping rope, dancing the twist and other little exercises guaranteed to keep somebody's blood racing. It was quite a show, made no easier by a chill wind whipping around the electric saws, a tiny disk suspended high above Adams Street.

If it bothered everybody else it bothered them, too. Benny and Betty, who have been doing this sort of thing all over the country for 15 years. They did their act atop a high pole in the Brown County arena three years ago, but this was the first time they've tried it out of doors here.

Benny Fox is a wiry little man who has been in the circus for 48 years. Possessor of a place in the Circus Hall of Fame in Sarasota, Fla., he began his career in

Tavern Owner Fined for Late Hour Operation

A Freedom tavern owner was fined $150 after he pleaded guilty Monday of operating his tavern beyond the legal closing hour of 1 a.m.

Merrill Liesch, 23, route 1, Kaukauna, was arrested by Outagamie County Traffic Patrolman Stanley Arnold Sunday morning after an inspection of Liesch's tavern and bowling alley showed 15 or 20 customers were being served at 1:40 a.m. Liesch said he was having a Halloween party and did not realize it was after closing time.

Former Blacksmith Dies at Wittenberg

WITTENBERG—Albert Hartleben, 78, passed away Monday morning at the Tigerton Hospital after a short illness. Hartleben was a blacksmith in the village for the past 44 years until his illness a few days ago. He was chief of the volunteer fire department for a number of years. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at St. John's Lutheran Church with burial in Forest Home Cemetery. Three daughters survive along with one brother and four sisters.

at the age of 10 and says he's going to call it quits only when he has put in half a century.

In that time Benny has done just about everything in a circus, from the high wire to flying, trapeze and bareback riding. Benny says he could step in in an emergency and fill for any act under the Big Top except pushing the big cats around, and he's not so sure he couldn't do that, too.

Was Skating Star

The Foxes are strictly an American act. Betty is his adopted daughter. Benny lost his son in World War II and Fox himself was born in Brooklyn.

An ice and roller-skating star before she took to the high heels, Betty has had a pretty varied career on her own. A cheerful blonde woman, she has reigned as Queen of the Circus at Sarasota since 1956.

The Foxes will be only one act in a formidable array of top circus talent the Dobritch spread is bringing to the Arena this Friday through Sunday. Virtually every act on the program is top break loose from this merry-go-round, including the Flying Wallendas, Keller's Wild Animals, The Cyclettes, Cook's Comedy, the Zaccachinis, Princess Tania, Victor Julian and his dogs, the George Hannelford Family and many others.

To Your Good Health

Pep Pills Can be Harmful if Abused

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some young men at the office take a little of the contents of these inhalers, they can drink or let it alone.

But there is danger of lesser proportions, too. Use of these stimulants can lead to jangling nerves, jitters, loss of weight, rapid heart beat and the like.

To my way of thinking, the drugs should be used only for medical purposes, never to make up the energy you didn't accumulate by adequate rest the night before.

What causes fever blisters on the lips and what will keep them from coming back?—W.G.B.

They are caused by a virus, herpes simplex. Some authorities believe the virus, once present, never leaves but breaks out into a blister or "cold sore" whenever your resistance sags, such as when you get a cold or some other transient infection.

I do not know of a sure-fire remedy. Sometimes, oddly, a new smallpox vaccination stops the trouble. Drying medications, like camphor, ice or spirits of camphor, help heal them.

Food Fallacies
Dear Dr. Molner: I've been confronted with some food fallacies I'd like straightened out:

1—Breakfast cereals have little or no food value.

2—Skim milk is better for you than whole or homogenized milk.

3—Potatoes with green spots should not be eaten.—V.D.

All wrong. Breakfast foods are cereals, of which we need some daily. Skim milk is better only for people who are trying to cut down calories but still need the calcium that it contains. And I've eaten plenty of potatoes with green spots.

Chimney Sparks Start House Fire in Freedom

FREEDOM — Parts of the roof and attic of the house on the Ewald Tetzlaff farm, Freedom, Ignited the roof Thursday evening. Freedom volunteer firemen spent about 2½ hours extinguishing the blaze. Damages were estimated at about $2,000. The house was insured.

Of course people are "sure" that it won't happen to them; they won't let the drugs become such a habit. But some of them do, just like people who insist that they can drink or let it alone.

But there is danger of lesser proportions, too. Use of these stimulants can lead to jangling nerves, jitters, loss of weight, rapid heart beat and the like.

To my way of thinking, the drugs should be used only for medical purposes, never to make up the energy you didn't accumulate by adequate rest the night before.

What causes fever blisters on the lips and what will keep them from coming back?—W.G.B.

They are caused by a virus, herpes simplex. Some authorities believe the virus, once present, never leaves but breaks out into a blister or "cold sore" whenever your resistance sags, such as when you get a cold or some other transient infection.

I do not know of a sure-fire remedy. Sometimes, oddly, a new smallpox vaccination stops the trouble. Drying medications, like camphor, ice or spirits of camphor, help heal them.

Food Fallacies
Dear Dr. Molner: I've been confronted with some food fallacies I'd like straightened out:

1—Breakfast cereals have little or no food value.

2—Skim milk is better for you than whole or homogenized milk.

3—Potatoes with green spots should not be eaten.—V.D.

All wrong. Breakfast foods are cereals, of which we need some daily. Skim milk is better only for people who are trying to cut down calories but still need the calcium that it contains. And I've eaten plenty of potatoes with green spots.
